Stream Introduction

Promoting responsible trade and markets offers 10 events that will provide an overview of current actions, trends, issues, opportunities, partnerships, and policies in ensuring the sustainability of forest products trade and markets. Events will offer a deep dive into the dimensions of forest products trade, market, and technology initiatives and opportunities in the Asia-Pacific region. Specifically, the focus will be on: ensuring the sustainability of forest products (timber and non-timber); empowering community enterprises; promoting smallholder interests; exploring forests investment opportunities; improving synergy between FLEGT and other initiatives; developing integrated forest management approaches; and enhancing transparency in managing agricultural systems in forests.
